

ABOUT THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra was formed in the 1970s as part of the Lancashire Education adult evening class syllabus and was originally called the 'College of Further Education Orchestra'. Renamed 'Fylde Sinfonia' in 1982, John Simpson conducted the orchestra for over 20 years until he handed the baton to Peter in 2004.

The orchestra largely consists of amateur players living in the Fylde area, performing three concerts a year in and around Lytham St Annes.
